JOSEPH ROACH KILLS A MAN

Terre Haute Man, Shoots Employee Who He Thought Robbed Him.

Bullet is Deliberately Fired Into Man's Heart—Roach Surrenders to Police.

Because he thought his victim had robbed him of $350, Joe Roach, a gambler, of Terre Haute, well known here, last night shot and killed Matthew Robertson in a gambling room above Herman Mew's saloon in the heart of Terre Haute. Roach at once surrendered to the police.

Saturday night Robertson and John Watson, who were employed by Roach, were alone in the latter's gambling room for a time, but when the proprietor returned they were gone, and $350 was missing from the cash drawer. Watson left the city, but Roach's suspicions were directed toward Robertson, who at once, according to Roach's statement to the police, began to prepare to go to California. Roach believed Robertson had no money except what little he gave him.

Five minutes before the shooting Roach followed Robertson into the gambling room, and without speaking to any of the four men present, walked around the settee on which Robertson was sitting, drew a revolver and fired at Robertson's heart.

Joe Roach is well known in this city where he had relatives and was the owner of property. Roach was a nephew of the late Mrs. Ann McCarty, who died recently, and heired a piece of property on North Perkins street. He visited here occasionally and had been calling on a prominent young lady on West Second street. He generally stopped at the Windsor while here and is a very heavy set fellow, dark complexioned and smooth faced. He is connected with the Terre Haute Central League baseball team.

WILL CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lamberson to Observe 50th Anniversary.

(Connorsville News.)

On March 5th, 1905, fifty years will have elapsed since the marriage of William T. Lamberson and Miss Lois Knapp, now two of the most prominent residents of Fayette county.

If Mr. and Mrs. Lamberson live until the above date, they will celebrate their anniversary in royal style, at their beautiful home in Bentonville. No invitations will be issued for the affair, but all the friends of the venerable couple are invited to call between the hours of 1:30 and 5 o'clock. They request that no presents be sent them.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamberson are well known here and are the parents of Charles Lamberson, north of town.

STRAIGHT RIGHT TO THE JAW

San Francisco, March 1.—Batting Nelson of Chicago made Young Corbett of Denver appear the poorest tyro at the fighting game last night when he practically knocked him out in the middle of the ninth round. In order to save their man a complete knock-out the seconds tossed up the sponge. The man who twice met Terry McGovern was not in it with the young Dane at any stage of the game. The final blow was a straight right to the jaw.

The fight was to be a 20-round contest to determine which of the two shall meet Champion Britt in a return match in the near future. Nearly 5,000 people witnessed the match and the receipts approximated $15,000.

DON'T FORGET

That You Can File Your Mortgage Exemption After March 2.

Under the present law two months' time is given in which to file mortgage exemption affidavits. Commencing Thursday, March 2d, they can be filed at any time up to and including April 28th, this being the last day on which affidavits could be filed, as April 30th falls on Sunday.

Affidavits must be made out each year. It makes no difference if you have filed before, you will get no benefit from the law next year unless you file again this year.

Any person who is the owner of real estate liable for taxation within the State of Indiana, and is indebted in any sum secured by a mortgage upon such real estate may have the amount of such mortgage indebtedness, not to exceed $700 in any case, existing and unpaid on the first day of March of any year, deducted from the assessed valuation of the mortgaged premises for that year. But no deduction will be allowed greater than one-half of the assessed valuation of such real estate.

WILL ESTABLISH ORPHANS' HOME

Mrs. Ella Bundy Will Take Charge of the Rush and Henry Co. Waifs.

Messrs. Willard H. Amos, Charles Lyons and Charles H. Kelso comprising the board of commissioners of Rush county, met in joint session at the court house at New Castle Monday, with the Henry county commissioners, for the purpose of discussing whether or not a joint county orphan's home should be established at Spiceland. It was decided that such an institution is one that is badly needed, and the two sets of commissioners entered into a three years' contract with Mrs. Ella Bundy, of New Castle, she to have charge of the same, during that period. The orphan children will be cared for at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, when they are between the ages of two and sixteen years. Children under two years, will be cared for at the rate of $3 per week. It will be a Rush-Henry joint county orphan's home, and each county shall pay the expenses of each child that it puts in.

Rush county now has quite a number of orphan children at White's Institute at Wabash. The county commissioners visited the institution recently and decided upon the change, which indeed is a wise one, as Mrs. Bundy, who formerly had charge of the Rush county home, north of town, is experienced in work of that kind, and will no doubt give the children better care.

NAME CHANGED

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the New Castle Bridge company of Indianapolis was held at Indianapolis yesterday. The business of the company for the past year was reported very good, and the name of the bridge company was changed to "Central States Bridge Co., of Indianapolis." An additional issue of $100,000 stock has been voted by the directors.

PERILS OF THE DEEP

San Francisco, March 1.—Fire broke out in the cargo of the steamer Oregon when the ship was about fifteen miles southwest of Crescent City on her voyage from San Francisco to Portland. There were fifty-six passengers on board the Oregon besides the crew, but the passengers were safely transferred to the steamer Del Norte and taken to Crescent City. The Oregon proceeded to the harbor under her own steam, the fire having been subdued.

NEGRO JACKSON GETS OFF EASY

Jury Gives Alleged Burglar Ten Day Jail and a $15 Fine.

Upon Being Released He Will be Turned Over to the Greensburg Police.

James Jackson, the negro arrested by Policeman Gordon on Christmas eve, and indicted by the grand jury on the charge of burglary and grand larceny, fared well at the hands of the jury which tried his case in the circuit court yesterday.

After being out seventeen hours, the jury returned a verdict finding Jackson guilty of petit larceny, and fixing his punishment at 10 days in jail with a fine of $15 added.

Oliver Smith's watch was found on Jackson's person and his shoes fitted the footprints made around the Smith home on the night of the burglary. It was shown that he told three conflicting stories as to how he obtained the watch, first stating that he bought it of a man on the J. M. & I railroad, then stating that he bought it of a tramp while riding a freight to Arlington. Then again he said he bought the watch at Indianapolis for 75 cents. In the opinion of almost everyone these things were enough to convict him.

The verdict as returned is the result of a compromise. To the last, nine men held out for conviction and three for acquittal.

Jackson's wife is here. She has plenty of money and will probably pay his fine.

Jackson is wanted at Greensburg on the same charge and as soon as he is released here, he will be turned over to the police in that city.

HAYES IS HELD ON TWO CHARGES

Resisted Arrest—Mrs. Hayes Has Applied For a Divorce.

It develops that George Hayes, who is in jail, threw a knife at his wife Monday night which missed its mark and stuck in a door casing. When Policeman Gordon was called and arrested Hayes on the charge of drunkenness, the latter, it is said, refused to go, attacked the officer, rolled on the sidewalk, and attempted to escape. Gordon was compelled to use strenuous measures to jail him. Hayes is now held on the charge of drunkenness and resisting arrest. Mrs. Hayes yesterday applied for divorce.

RACES AT THE SHELBY CO. FAIR

The Shelby county fair this year will be held five days, beginning September 5. Tuesday, the first day, there will be a county trot, purse $100, and a county pace, purse $100. Wednesday, the program will consist of a 2:27 trot, purse, $300. Thursday there will be a 2:35 trot, purse, $300; a 2:15 pace, purse, $300. Friday, there will be a 2:25 pace for $300; a 2:18 trot for $350, and a 2:50 pace for $250. Saturday, the last day, the program will be a 2:12 pace for $350, and a 2:50 trot for $250.

The association will offer a purse of $100 additional to be added to premium of the first horse to lower the track record in any of the events of the week.

HAS THE PRIVILEGE

Rush County Agricultural Society Can Name Agricultural Student for Purdue.

Certificates of appointment of students in the agricultural course are now being received at Purdue University. Every agricultural association, society, grange, farmers' institute or fair association has the privilege of sending two scholars to Purdue from the county in which it is situated. The scholarship certified to Purdue are now being sent in for next year. In times past the registrar at Purdue finds that many of the students who are sent to Purdue to take the short course have decided to take the regular course. The Rush County Fair Association has the privilege of designating two students for the Purdue agricultural course.

HARRY COLEMAN

A Professional Grafter is Now Working People in This Vicinity.

The Greensburg Morning Graphic states that a board bill skipper and professional grafter beat a landlady out of a week's board and secured other credits around town.

On last Saturday, Mrs. Hall, the landlady, kindly presented Mr. Coleman the bill for the week's lodging and board. The gentleman mentioned, with a countenance as bland as an angel's, told the lady, in accents sweet and low, that as soon as Mr. Milner, for whom he claimed he worked, paid him off he would settle. Now, Mr. Coleman, knowing that the law entitles the landlady to keep the grip in payment for board, was considerate enough to do his earthly goods and chattels up in a shawl strap and leave a battered old suit case as a souvenir for Mrs. Hall, while he left for parts unknown.

Mr. Milner, who made some inquiry, has learned that Coleman is a professional grafter and has worked several towns in the vicinity of Greensburg. It is thought that this fellow reached Rushville on the 11:04 Big Four train Monday morning.

DONLIN A HERO

When the $3,000,000 fire was at its height at Hot Springs, Messrs. McGann and Donlin, of the New York base ball team, were standing near the Hotel Moody. An aged woman on an upper floor was cut off by smoke from escape by the stairways. McGann saw her appear at a window, and calling to Donlin, procured a ladder. The two placed it against the wall and scampered up. They found the woman unconscious from smoke. McGann lifted her in his arms and carried her to the window, where, with Donlin, he carried her down the ladder to a place of safety. The crowd cheered as they came down the rungs and President Brust, of the New York club, who was in the throng, shouted himself hoarse. Donlin was unhurt, but McGann was slightly burned about the face.

Donlin is the same Mike Donlin, who played ball with the Rushville team last summer. He has been wintering at Hot Springs.

PORTO RICAN STRIKE OVER.

San Juan, P. R., March 1.—The strikers on various sugar plantations have returned to work. A slight increase of wages has been granted in some sections of the island. Where the planters refused to yield to the terms demanded the strikers are returning at the old wages. The failure of the strike was due to the fact that the men were not organized and that idle farm-hands replaced the cane-cutters.

ARE READY FOR THE LEGAL STEP

Effort to Block the Cities and Towns Bill, if it Becomes a Law.

Validity of the Measure Called Into Question—Preparations For Making a Test.

Rushville city officers and citizens who have shown interest in the features of the "cities and towns" bill, have been advised that legal preparations are now on foot to have the supreme court decide on the constitutionality of the act, should the bill become a law.

The committee of seven Republicans who have been appointed by Addison C. Harris to fight the extension of the terms of office before the committee in the House this week, is prepared for its work.

On the committee are Smiley N. Chambers, Charles Martindale, Dr. J. W. Ridpath, Linton Cox, all of Indianapolis; and John Overmyer, of North Vernon; L. V. Sharpe, of Fort Wayne, and George Dickerson, of Terre Haute. Judge Chambers, who is chairman of the committee, in a statement made at Indianapolis, gives a hint as to what course will be pursued. In his statement he said:

"The validity of this provision of the bill is questioned. Good lawyers have said that it is valid; others have said that it is not. This discloses that there is ground for dispute.

There would be a question in the different cities and towns as to whether elections should be held this fall. In some cities and towns one position would be taken and in others the opposite position. Appeals would be made to the courts for decision. There might be conflict among the judges. Some would decide in favor of its validity, others against it. In some cities and towns elections would be held and in others they would not be held. The question would naturally arise as to the validity of the tenure of office, of those now in office and of those elected. There would, therefore, be uncertainty, confusion and many grave dangers.

"Is there a necessity for inviting such conditions? We have heard but one reason given for omitting the election of 1905—and that is the question of economy. The question is 'shall the election of officers in the cities and towns of the State be abrogated for the mere sake of expenses?' If it may be abrogated in the fall of 1905, why may not the General Assembly of 1907 pass it another two years, and so ad infinitum? Would not the people thereby be deprived of their constitutional right to elect their local officers? The right is guaranteed to them and has been sustained by a decision of the supreme court."

GRAND JURY IS INVESTIGATING

The grand jury has taken up the condition of the Equitable Building Loan and Savings Association and will, it is said, attempt to determine the cause of the company's failure. The stockholders are being summoned as witnesses.

FIRE IN OHIO TOWN

East Liverpool, Ohio, March 1.—The third destructive blaze here this winter and by far the worst fire in the history of East Liverpool, broke out at 7 o'clock last night and by midnight when the firemen had gained control, six fine buildings and many smaller ones were in ashes, while others were scorched or damaged by water, causing a total loss of more than half a million dollars. The blaze started in the shoe store of W. H. Gass in Market street and spread with rapidity.

WERE SNOWED UNDER

The Robins Arrive a Trifle Early and Mistake the Weather.

The robin as usual has done a very foolish thing. Reaching the North too early is one of the common errors of the robin and other varieties of summer birds, and the robin this year failed to glean a lesson from the unpleasant experience of his sisters, and brothers who came last year six weeks in advance of good weather. Various persons have reported that robins were seen in Rushville Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday they probably believed that they had sized up the weather properly. Yesterday they thought differently, if they thought at all, and wished themselves back in "that dear Alabama."

WANTED TO SEE THE CITY

Leo Schetgen Aged 11, Ran Away From Home—Returned by Police.

Leo, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schetgen, of North Harrison street, turned up missing yesterday and his anxious parents were unable to get any trace of his whereabouts.

The lad is a newsboy and arose early to pass his papers. When the six o'clock car left town the boy decided that he would like to visit Indianapolis. He climbed aboard and went to the city, where he spent the day roaming the streets and "seeing the sights."

His parents here searched diligently for him all day, fearing that some accident had befallen him. The surrounding towns were notified together with the police at Indianapolis. Late in the evening word was received here from the police in that city, stating that the boy had been found and he was sent home on the traction line and was met by his father at Arlington. The lad says he "had a fine time and saw lots of things."

IS NOT DEAD

Investigation Shows That Arl Bundy Had His Suit Case Stolen.

(Special to the Republican.)

Carthage, Ind., March 1.—Upon investigation made by Macey Bundy, of this city, father of Arl Bundy, whose suit-case and telescope were found along the river bank at Zionsville, it has been found that the young man is alive and has not suicided or been murdered as was supposed.

The suit-case and telescope were stolen from a freight car which contained a lot of stock and for which Bundy was caring while on his way to Chicago. Bundy was riding in the caboose at the time. The suit case contained about $40 worth of clothes. It is believed that tramps stole the valises and left them at Zionsville after donning the clothing. No trace of the tramps has yet been found.

No Agreement in Sight.

Washington, March 1.—The conferees on the statehood bill are still unable to agree, nor is any hope held out by the conferees that there will be an ultimate agreement.

RIGHT OF WAY AND THE TRACK

The Land Owners Maintain the Fences Along the I. and C.

Western Electrician Says the Ties are Laid 3,280 Feet to the Mile.

The Western Electrician in its article on the I. & C. says concerning the right-of-way and track:

"Wherever possible, the track has been laid upon the company's own private right-of-way. Where the land is level and there are no considerable hills or cuts, a right-of-way four rods wide has been secured, but wherever peculiarities of construction made it desirable, a wider right-of-way has been obtained. In all of the smaller towns the private right-of-way has been continued through, and the road has been constructed upon streets or highways only in cities of such size as to make it necessary. Wherever possible, curves have been avoided and such an alignment has been secured between cities and towns as will permit of very rapid running with entire safety to passengers and equipment. In most instances the right-of-way has been protected by a woven-wire fence erected under an agreement with the landowners, whereby he maintains the fence and keeps all gates closed. Wherever such agreements have not been secured, the right-of-way has been fenced with barbed wire. In most cases the company has also been granted the right to cut and keep out any timber on adjacent lands which might interfere with its wires and fences or with the operation of the road.

"The track is laid with 70-pound T-rail in 60 lengths, connected with Weber rail joints and bonded with No. 0000 10-inch copper bonds, with seven-eighths-inch terminals under the plates so as not to be exposed. Cross bonds are put in every half-mile and long bonds under all special construction. All switches and other special devices have been furnished by the Buda Manufacturing company of Harvey, Ill., the construction throughout following steam railway standards. Turn-outs and cross-overs are constructed so as to avoid danger of open switches. The ties are mostly of first-class white oak or burr oak, though a few chestnuts have been used. They all measure six inches by eight feet long, and are laid 3280 feet to the mile. The bridge ties are of long leaf yellow pine. Gravel ballast has been used throughout the whole line. It is generally laid eight inches under the ties and level with the top of the rail. In the streets of Rushville an eight-inch layer of broken stone has been placed under the ties."

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS

Washington, March 1.—As an evidence of the approaching adjournment a large number of bills were passed by unanimous consent yesterday and an evening session was held in order to discuss the general deficiency appropriation bill. During the day the bills amending the homestead law as to lands in South Dakota and Colorado so as to permit the entry of 640 acres instead of 160 were discussed. Final action on them, however, was prevented by the dilatory tactics of the opposition.

The senate spent almost the entire day considering items in the Indian appropriation bill which were not passed on Monday and extended the session into the night for that purpose. There was quite a long discussion of the committee amendment prohibiting the use of tribal funds in the support of sectarian schools. The provision was modified so as to allow individual members of tribes to use their proportion of funds in support of such schools, and as thus amended was agreed to. Many other features of the bill were also debated.

Carrie Nation is now editing the Shawnee (Okla.) Daily News. The saloon keepers have not yet decided which is the mightier, the pen or the hatchet.

The verdict rendered by the jury in the case of the negro robber, was, as Judge Sparks expressed it, "a travesty upon justice." It is such verdicts as these that cause the people to lose confidence in courts.

It is the fate of Republican policy that it eventually becomes so popular with the people that its opponents themselves are compelled to endorse it. And some of them, after a while, fool themselves, or try to, into the belief that they favored it all along. Every intelligent Democrat should know that the policy regarding the trusts which the President is pursuing is the policy laid down in the platform on which he stood. That policy has been followed by the Republicans ever since the trust issue came to the front. A new era of good feeling has come to the country, according to the Democratic politicians and only one party is extant any longer. It is a rather important circumstance, however, that that all-embracing American political party is the Republican party.

There is not the slightest danger that the liberties of the American people will ever be endangered by any navy or army which may be created. Compared with the United States' population and wealth, the length of its coast and frontier lines, and the vast value of its interests, its defensive forces, even on the sea, are far smaller than those of any other nation of the first or second class. Sweden, Norway, with only a twelfth of our population and with not a hundredth part of our wealth, has an army of the same size as ours. While our possessions extend nearly half way round the globe, our army is much less than half the size of that of Switzerland, a country which is only a dot on Europe's map. Only prejudice or ignorance can see any menace of imperialism in the efforts which are urged from time to time to extend the country's defensive forces. Our army of 60,000 spread from Porto Rico to Cape Nome and from Maine to Luzon bears only a small proportion to the 83,000,000 people of the contiguous part of the United States.

BEGGING LOCATION

Peculiar Situation Exists Regarding the Harrison Statue.

Indianapolis, March 1.—John B. Elam, a prominent member of the Harrison Monument association, has written to Vice President-elect Fairbanks, urging him to intercede with the government architects on behalf of the petition for permission to erect a statue in front of the new federal building in honor of the late ex-president. The architects for the building have objected to the statue because its lines do not conform to the decorations they have planned. These architects submitted a design to the commission which was promptly rejected, after which permission was refused to place the statue in front of the building. As the trustees for the institution for the blind object to legislation to place the statue in St. Clair park, Mr. Elam and his associates are dismayed. Mr. Fairbanks, it is understood, still has hopes of getting permission to place the statue in front of the federal building, which is a very desirable location.

A long step has been taken by the senate toward ending a controversy between the Democrats and Republicans as to whose statue shall occupy the vacant niche allotted to Indiana in Statuary hall, Washington. The senate passed Senator T. T. Moore's bill for an appropriation of $5,000 to place a statue in honor of General Lew Wallace in the niche. The Democrats voted against it, as they want the place reserved for the late Thomas A. Hendricks. The Republicans two years ago passed a bill authorizing the placing of a statue there in honor of General George Rogers Clark, but it was vetoed by Governor Durbin. There has always been a controversy among the Republicans as to whose statue should be erected, as many favored Benjamin Harrison and other favorite sons of Indiana. It is probable that the house will follow the lead of the senate and pass the Wallace bill.

The corporate interests are carrying out their threats to make a hard fight on the Gurney anti-trust bill in the senate. Many of them have representatives here buttonholing members right and left. George Lilly of Anderson, Eighth district member of the Republican state committee, declared that if the bill becomes a law it will drive the United States Steel company out of the state and throw 7,000 people out of employment. He objected strongly to the feature of the proposed law giving the prosecuting attorneys power to go into a factory without notice and inform the company that its business is in the hands of a receiver. It is to this feature that the corporate interests generally are raising the greatest howl. T. H. Johnson, a glass manufacturer, is urging its defeat. He says the bill will hurt the small corporations more than the large ones. The fate of the bill is in doubt.

The bill for supervision of the private banks was passed by a vote of 27 to 22. It is a loose-jointed measure that deputies in the state auditor's office say will not give them sufficient power to bring about any reforms. The senate killed the Branch bill to provide for waiting sheds along the interurban lines not less than a mile apart. The interurban companies wanted the measure defeated.

Senator O'Brien, chairman of the Democratic state committee, will go to Washington tomorrow to witness the inaugural ceremonies. His son is a West Point cadet and will be in the parade. John L. Griffiths, who will be the new United States consul to Liverpool, and Mrs. Griffiths will be the guests of Vice President-elect and Mrs. Fairbanks during the ceremonies.

HOPEFUL RUSSIANS

Commander of Ill-Fated Sevastopol Talks of His Country's Plans.

GETTING INTO SHAPE

While Admitting That Last Year's Campaign Was Disastrous Capt. Von Essen Has Hopes.

The Fate of Port Arthur Was Inevitable Owing to Inability to Secure Fresh Stores.

New York, March 1.—Standing under the blended colors of Russia and America, the thirteen Russian officers who recently arrived here as paroled prisoners of Japan, toasted the czar of all the Russias and the president of the United States, and then chanted the Russian national anthem, "God Protect the Czar," at a reception tendered to them last night by the Slavic Alliance of which M. De Lodyginsky, the Russian consul general, is honorary president; Thomas Capek, president, and Prof. Michael Pupin of Columbia, vice president.

The guests of honor were Commander Edward Czesnowicz; Commander Nicholas Von Essen; Captain Nicholas Saxe; Lieutenants Bestujew-Rumin, Krotkoff, Kowalewski and Ovandier; Ensigns Turtoff, Denisoff, Butkewics, Beklemisheff and Kyje, and Lieutenant of the Army Peter Veselkin. With these were Colonel Rostoff of the army; Commandant Boutakoff of the navy, attaches of the Russian embassy at Washington.

Telling of his experiences at Port Arthur, Captain Von Essen, who commanded the Sevastopol, said: "I had been ordered by my superior officers to blow up the ship, but I sank her in the open sea, just outside Port Arthur. There were 300 men, officers and crew, aboard the ship at the time, and not a life was lost. We took to the boats and rowed to the hills surrounding Port Arthur. Besides being commander of the Sevastopol, I had charge of the Liaotishan hills, and with my little force held the position, which was not captured but which was surrendered at the general capitulation. Port Arthur was then in a lamentable condition. There was scarcely any food and only enough ammunition to last a few days longer. Disease was widespread, but through it all the soldiers and officers made no murmur.

"General Stoessel was personally all along against surrender. He yielded only to save the lives of non-combatants which would have been sacrificed by further resistance. For eight months General Stoessel had received neither ammunition nor food from Russia, and he made his fight solely on the ammunition and food supply within the fortress when the siege began.

"The Japanese were four to one in all our engagements. Russia entered into this war unprepared, but I and all other naval and army officers believe that she will eventually win and that within a year, Russia is fast getting into shape where she will give a good account of herself."

Ekatereinoslav, March 1.—Two thousand coal miners have returned to work, the mine owners having conceded twenty-two out of the twenty-six demands made by the men.

NO SPECIAL FUND ON A LARGE SCALE

Will Be Allowed by Legislature to Apprehend Fugitive Lobbyist.

LAW'S NORMAL COURSE

Must Be Pursued in This Matter Was the Decision Reached After Discussion in the House.

General Appropriations Bill Passed in the House Carries Net Sum of $3,200,000.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 1.—The house has passed the general appropriations bill and it will now go to the senate which will pass it Thursday or Friday. It authorizes appropriations aggregating $3,200,000.

The house rescinded its action in appropriating $5,000 to apprehend O. A. Baker, the lobbyist, who is charged with offering a bribe to Representative Ananias Baker. Representative Boyd offered an amendment to the general appropriations bill to provide for an appropriation of $4,000 to employ detectives to look after the lobbyist next session insisting that Lobbyist Baker can't be captured with an expenditure of $25,000 and therefore that it would be more advisable to spend the money keeping down corruption two years hence. This amendment failed.

Representative Sayre made a long speech against the proposition to expend $5,000 in the apprehension of the fugitive lobbyist. He asked why the legislature should make a special appropriation to apprehend a man wanted for a crime in this country. The law, he said, should be allowed to take its normal course.

The grand jury, which is investigating the bribery case, examined a number of witnesses today, but no new testimony was obtained.

Chairman Edwards of the house committee on cities and towns today reported the codification commission's municipal code which was passed Monday by the senate but the committee did not suggest that the amendment to extend the terms of the present city officials until 1908 be stricken out. Chairman Edwards said this matter will have to be fought out on the floor. There is a strong sentiment against extending the terms and an amendment will be offered to hold the elections in November, this year, permitting the present officials to serve until Jan. 1, 1906. This would give the incoming officials a little less than four years service.

The house spent an entire day as a committee of the whole, considering the general appropriations bill. Representative Sayre, chairman of the ways and means, elinched his right to the title of "watch dog of the treasury" by piloting the bill through practically in the form in which it was reported.

Nearly fifty amendments were offered for appropriations not recommended in the bill, but with few exceptions they were tabled. One introduced by Representative Dausman appropriating $6,000 for counsel fees in looking after the affairs of the newly created railway commission was opposed by Representative Sayre, but was adopted over his protest.

The senate passed the Sherick anti-tax ferret bill by a vote of 27 to 15. It is a substitute for the one introduced in the house. The bankers and trust companies have bitterly opposed it and will probably defeat it before the house.

Senator Will Wood offered an amendment to the Slack voting machine bill to compel every county to buy machines, but it was defeated by a two to one vote.

Governor Hanly has signed the codification commission's eminent domain bill, being the first of the lot to get through. It does not make any radical changes in the present laws on the subject. The other bills reported by the codification commission are being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, but it is likely that two or three will not get through. Governor Hanly has set his foot down on the proposition to hold an extra session to consider unfinished business. He does not believe an emergency exists for an extra session. However both branches will dispose of most of the important matters now before them.

Will Go to Supreme Court.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 1.—Judge Stimson has refused to dissolve the restraining order preventing the city council from giving John R. Walsh's Southern Indiana railway the right to use a road in reaching the union railway station with the Chicago division, now building, and the case will be carried to the supreme court.

Shot in Gambling Den.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 1.—Joe Roach shot and instantly killed Max Robertson in a gambling room here last night. Roach charged that Robertson robbed him in a game Saturday night. Roach surrendered.

Dropped Dead in Saloon.

Mentone, Ind., March 1.—Willard Baker, bartender in Vandemark's saloon, dropped dead while in the act of drawing a glass of beer.

Fighting Between the Two Great Armies Extends All Along the Line.

A RUSSIAN DISASTER

Seems Imminent Unless the Aggressive Movement of the Japanese Can Be Checked.

Gen. Kuropatkin May Be Compelled to Abandon Positions He Has So Strongly Fortified.

Fighting on a large scale is in progress between the Russian and Japanese armies in Manchuria. Gen. Kuropatkin, after meeting the initiative of the Japanese in the eastern part of the Shakhe valley assumed the aggressive in the western portion yesterday, and under cover of heavy artillery fire from Pulitoff hill, and Novgorod hill succeeded in driving the Japanese from a position in the outskirts of Sandiapu. Simultaneously the Russians attacked and captured a railroad bridge on the Japanese center. Much more serious is the Japanese move against the Russian's left wing, which threatens, unless quickly checked, to oblige General Kuropatkin to abandon the positions on the Hun river, which he has captured and fortified during the winter. There is no confirmation of the report that the Russian commander-in-chief has notified the emperor that retreat northward has become imperative.

DECISIVE ENGAGEMENT

Battle Now Raging One of the Most Important of the War.

St. Petersburg, March 1.—Late news from Manchuria is of the most important nature, dispatches from Mukden indicating that a general battle was beginning along the whole of the 100 miles of front occupied by the two armies. General Kuropatkin appears to have taken a leaf out of Field Marshal Oyama's book and replied to General Kuroki's attack on the Russian left by a counter attack on the Japanese left, in which General Kaulbars' initial success is better for the GENERAL KAULBARS.

Russians than the best efforts of General Gripenberg, the Russian vanguard being established at the outskirts of Sandiapu. At the same time General Kuropatkin delivered a blow against the Japanese center, seizing a railroad bridge across the Shakhe river. These reports, therefore, give a more hopeful aspect to the situation, as the Russian army, though driven out of Da pass, appears to have succeeded in stopping at least for the moment, the further advance of the Japanese eastward and beaten off the attack on the center.

The effect of Monday's developments on General Kuropatkin's reported intention to withdraw from the Shakhe is problematical. Retirement in the face of an enemy, which is extremely hazardous under any circumstances, is doubly dangerous when the armies are grappling in a general engagement; but if General Kuroki succeeds in rolling up the Russian left much further the perilous expedient may become necessary. The counter strokes on the right and center may possibly be intended to cover the withdrawing trains and stores. If, however, General Kuropatkin is determined to stand and fight out the battle on the line which he has held during the winter, and if he should be able to administer a vigorous check to General Kuroki, he has secured a good position for his second move in the great game.

MANY RUMORS

Russian Domestic Affairs in Badly Unsettled State.

St. Petersburg, March 1.—Next Saturday being the anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs, rumors have been in circulation that the day has been selected for notable events of divers nature. According to some of these rumors the workmen are planning an immense revolutionary demonstration, while according to other reports the government intends to commemorate the anniversary by issuing a manifesto establishing some form of representative legislative body. It is stated positively, however, on competent authority, that there is no intention on the part of the government to signalize Saturday by any special manifesto; and plans for a demonstration of workmen, if there are any, have not yet reached the men or the Liberal leaders. On the other hand it seems certain that the recently revived council of ministers at its weekly sessions is considering the all-important question of reform and evolving governmental alterations of a momentous character; but what form these changes are to take it is impossible to ascertain with positiveness. Presumably the council is discussing means of bringing the government and people into closer touch. A definite announcement of the ministers' decision as to the nature of the proposed reforms is not expected for some time.

Early Attacks Driven Back.

Mukden, March 1.—Fighting is in progress along the whole line, the Japanese attacking every where. All early attacks were beaten back and the Russians made counter attacks at many places. On the right flank the Russians occupied the village of Boatatzki, which is close to Sandiapu, and from that position hurled hand grenades across the intervening ravine into the Japanese trenches in Sandiapu, causing heavy loss and great disorder.

Japs Gain Important Position.

Mukden, March 1.—The Russians report that the Japanese are in possession of Taling and also the pass between Taling and Katouling. The possession of Taling threatens Fusharn, Tiehling and Hiegeessway. Taling is regarded as one of the same consequence to the Japanese in the operations against Mukden as was Motienling in relation to Liao Yang. In case the Japanese push on from the southeast their operations will be among the hills.

Keeps His Secret Well.

Moscow, March 1.—It is now believed that the assassin of Grand Duke Sergius came from Paris and that by trade he is an artificer. His name is still unknown.

Warsaw Strike Situation.

Warsaw, March 1.—The strike situation in Poland is far from encouraging. A general strike of shop assistants in Warsaw is expected unless the demands of the men are conceded. Seventy-five per cent of the employers are willing to give in, but the remainder refuse to do so. The domestic servants also threaten to strike.

Gift From the Kaiser.

Cambridge, Mass., March 1.—A collection of models, charts, maps and books, which formed part of the German educational exhibition at the recent St. Louis exposition, was last night presented to Harvard university by Dr. Theodore LeWald, the German imperial commissioner, acting in behalf of Emperor William.

Prohibits Race Track Gambling.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 1.—The house by a vote of 116 to 9 passed the bill prohibiting bookmaking and pool-selling at racetracks or elsewhere in the state.

Postoffice Funds Missing.

Honolulu, March 1.—Jos. S. Ferdy, an attorney practicing in Hilo, has been arrested and held to answer on a warrant charging him with complicity in the frauds in the postoffice at Koloa, Kauai, where the sum of $27,000 is missing.

Interesting Political Situation.

London, March 1.—The political situation is undergoing some rather interesting developments and there are several indications of the intention of the government to sidetrack the fiscal controversy.

Incendiary Students.

Minsk, March 1.—The students of the clerical seminary here wrecked the houses of the director and inspector of schools and burned all their papers. All the students then left the town.

Practical Recipes

For the Housewife

The Daily Republican, always on the lookout for something of use to its many readers, has made arrangements to publish, from time to time, a few practical receipts that will be found of great value to the housewife. Our readers will do well to cut these out as they appear and preserve them as they will be found of special use. In fact, it will be our effort to publish seasonable recipes only, and those suitable to all tastes and purses.

Contributions of practical approved recipes, to be used in this department, will be gratefully received and published under the name of the contributor. Address all such, to "Practical Recipes Department."

PLAIN CAKE.

MARGUERITES.

CURD CHEESE CAKES OR PIE.

One cupful each of sugar and flour, one-half cupful of cold water, one beaten egg, butter the size of an egg and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Flavor to taste. Rub butter and sugar together, add the egg, and mix with the other ingredients, beating well and quickly.

Mix beaten whites of eggs stiff with powdered sugar. Add chopped almonds or English walnut meats, and flavoring. Drop a spoonful on light square crackers and glaze but do not brown in the oven.

Take a cupful of milk curd. Add to it the beaten yolks of three eggs, a cupful of cream or new milk, half a cupful of dried currants a pinch of salt, a little grated nutmeg and a little grated lemon peel. Beat thoroughly, and pour into a tin lined with pie paste. Baked in individual pattypans, these are called Maids of Honor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SECRETARIES.

We find trying to get complete reports from all the schools, that some of them keep very imperfect records; no enrollment is made and no monthly or quarterly reports are made. The report to the county secretary must be estimated; it will not be accurate. Is the Lord's work of so little importance? Every superintendent should see to it that a good record book is supplied to the secretary and then see that it is properly kept; then we can get absolutely accurate reports. This is the year that Indiana is to report to the International Convention, also the Hon. Wm. T. Harris, commissioner of education of the United States, has promised to embody the report of the different States in his regular report to Congress. If Indiana shows up well will depend on the township secretaries. We will promise you that the county secretary will do all that he can; will you?

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Patterns For Lady's Underwear Designed by Martha Dean

Fashion vagaries are almost as marked in lingerie as in frocks, and the models vary from year to year. The night-dress models are made with a flat line about the neck, frills and ruffles having been found cumbersome. In the design shown provision is made for high or open neck, long or short sleeve. Drawers fitted by darts are satisfactory, as that does away with extra material at the waist line, and there is always great width as a finish at the knee. As to materials, nainsook, cambric and crossbarred aculins are favorites. The trimmings may be of Swiss or English embroideries, val or torchon lace. "Footing" makes a very pretty trimming, using little bands of ribbon run heading at each side. The point d'esprit with square mesh is best to use. It washes well and lasts better than lace. Fine French veiling always gives to the garment a mark of elegance. It is used in seams, between lace and embroidery and through groups of tucks. Patterns Nos. 6121 and 6100. Sizes for nightdress, No. 6121, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Sizes for drawers, No. 6100, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 20 cents to this office, give numbers of these patterns, Nos. 6121 and 6100, and state sizes desired. They will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Or either of the patterns will be sent for 10 cents. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

MARDI GRAS, FLORIDA, THE SOUTH

Special Outing for Indiana Tourists via Pennsylvania Lines.

An exceptionally favorable time for a trip South is the special outing for Indiana tourists to be given this mid-winter, offering an inexpensive jaunt for health and pleasure seekers to the famous resorts of Florida and the South, and also including two days' participation in the noted Mardi Gras festivities of New Orleans. A solid vestibuled Pullman train will leave Indianapolis Union Station 7:00 p. m. on February 27th, over Pennsylvania Lines. Points of interest along the route include famous battlefields—Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga, Atlanta, Savannah, the line of Sherman's "march to the sea." The tour embraces Ormond, the fashionable winter resort, St. Augustine, with its ancient Spanish battlements; Pensacola, of naval interest; Pass Christian, "The Newport of the South," Mobile, Birmingham, Nashville, with ample time for sight seeing. Two days will be passed in New Orleans during its great Mardi Gras celebration. Eleven days in the sunny South, away from the ice and sleet of the North, and the cost including Pullmans, only $55. As the sleeping car berths should be reserved in advance, it is advised that it is better to communicate early with W. W. If all mothers trained their daughters to read the advertisements in the Republican as regularly as they practice their music, fewer young men would shy at matrimony. Advertisements should be scanned regularly as they present opportunities to secure some things which only come occasionally and when they come, they are sure to be advertised.

The Daily Republican contains twice as much reading matter as any other daily in the city, and every effort is being put forth to furnish the citizens of Rushville a paper which is acknowledged by newspaper men everywhere, to be the best country daily paper in the State. Quality and quantity at a fair price, rather than a small quantity at a low price is our aim in publishing a daily paper.

Indianapolis Star, today: Abraham Lincoln Gary, formerly superintendent of the Rush county schools, but now of this city, is scheduled for something new for every minute to-day with no time to change curtains. He has volunteered to "chaperon" the Glenwood (Rush county) school about the city today. Besides visiting the Legislature, they will visit the Blind and Deaf Asylums, the scene of the million-dollar fire, the Manual Training High School and Kingan's.

Rev. Joseph Taylor, formerly pastor of the Milroy Christian church for ten years, and who left Milroy ten or eleven years ago, died at Wabash and was taken through here this afternoon to Greensburg, where he was buried.

Connersville News: Beginning the first Monday in April, Mr. Broadbush will hold a special term of court at Rushville, lasting two weeks or more. It is said the necessity for this is that the docket is rather large and that, furthermore, Judge Sparks was retained as attorney, before his election, in many cases now pending.

Parks Martin of the State Board of Commissioners was here today and met with the county and the township assessors in the examination room at the court house. The best methods of assessing taxable property were discussed, and the assessors received their books and other necessary things for their work. The assessors will begin work immediately.

Two policemen were over from Connersville yesterday looking for a horse and buggy stolen in that city Monday night. The outfit was said to have been sold in this city to George W. Mallory, who is said to have shipped the horse together with a number of others to the Blair-Baker sale at Indianapolis. The officers were unable to get any trace of the thief and telegraphed to Indianapolis for the horse.

DEATHS

James Lord, father of W. A. Lord, trustee of Center township, and Dr. J. L. Lord, of Mays, died at the home of Dr. Lord this morning after an illness lasting some time. Mr. Lord was seventy years of age and was of a kind and gentle disposition. He came to Rush county at the age of ten with his widowed mother, from Delaware and made his home in Union township for many years. He then removed to Howard county, where he has since resided. Besides the two sons already mentioned, he leaves one son, F. O. Lord, and two daughters, Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Leisure, all of Howard county. The body will be taken to West Liberty tomorrow for burial.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

Today was divorce day in court and three or four cases were to be tried, but none of the parties appeared in court.

The trial of William Kelley, under two indictments for burglary and burglary and larceny, will come up for trial next Monday.

Timothy McGrath, who is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill for shooting Francis Moor, has filed a new bond, which was increased to $500, with Henry O'Neil as surety.

The will of the late John Smith was probated today. It provides that all the personal property of the deceased be sold at auction and all real estate belonging to him be sold at private sale as soon as possible and that, after all debts are paid, the money be equally divided between the widow, Emma Smith, the son George Smith, and the adopted son, Marion D. Smith, formerly Marion O. Hawkins, grandson of the deceased. James Alexander was nominated as executor of the will.

LODGE NOTES

Fayette Lodge I. O. O. F., of Connersville had several candidates for the work last night.

The encampment branch of the Odd Fellows will hold a county meeting at Shelbyville tomorrow, Thursday, March 2d. The work will be exemplified by Encampment No. 319, of Indianapolis. A banquet will follow the work. The following encampments will be represented, Morristown, Waldron, Blue Ridge and Shelbyville.

The Shelbyville Eagles will have a special train to Franklin on next Friday, leaving that place at 12:30 p. m. and returning at 12:30 midnight, the occasion being the institution of an aerie of Eagles at Franklin.

Many times a lodge will make the great mistake of trying to erect and pay for a building, when good business judgment would have prevented such a course. As a consequence we see that many of these have failed and the lodge gone down or obliged to surrender its charter. A prominent Odd Fellow with whom we were talking on this subject the other day made this very appropriate remark concerning the same: "They are monuments to the financial embezzlement of the members which compose the lodge."

ABOUT SELLING BELOW COST.

Even in Publishing a Newspaper
There is a Limit as to

That there is such a thing as publishing a newspaper below cost, the numerous dead in the newspaper graveyard amply testify. This point was tersely stated by Editor Chambers of the New Castle Democrat, one of the best and most successful rising newspaper men in the State, when he announced the suspension of the Knightstown Journal, which we reprint from our issue of January 7th: "The most pathetic article that has met our eye in many moons was a tribute written by a Knightstown preacher to the good qualities and virtues of the Daily Journal of that place which suspended publication. For four or five years the paper was published giving a daily report of events as they occurred in Knightstown, and at the starvation price of six cents a week. It was making a donation to the people of that community. If the editor was rich to afford it, very well. But the man who publishes a daily paper in a town under 10,000 population and sells it for less than 10 cents is selling the paper below cost. He is losing money and will have to quit sooner or later. It has been tried too many times and always failed. But every once in a while some fellow bobs up who thinks he is smarter than all those who have gone before, only to meet a like fate. Newspapers are the cheapest things on earth. Nobody kicks on the price, except an occasional chronic belly-acher and the publisher who seeks to placate those few individuals will meet a deserved fate. It is only when papers can get thousands and ten thousands of subscribers and five to twenty times the advertising rate paid to local papers, that they can sell at a cent a day. Even in a city the size of Muncie it cost George McCulloch $80,000 to get the Star on its feet. The futility of a man with limited capital trying to compete in price with a city daily can be seen at a glance.

There are in this country 80,000,000 people, of whom 45,000,000 are in position to pay for what they require. The newspaper advertisement is today the greatest factor in the distribution of this tremendous patronage.

Eighth-Year Final Examination.

The following townships in Rush county will hold their eighth year final examinations on the third Saturday in March: Washington, Orange, Posey, Ripley, Rushville, Jackson and Anderson. The remaining townships (Center, Noble, Walker, Richmond and Union) will hold their examinations in April.
